Ranger cursus

This course is open to a maximum of 10 and a minimum of 5 people. Accommodation is in safari tents. Delegates will enjoy “bush cooking” in the outdoors on some evenings or dinner will be served at the restaurant on Kololo Game Reserve. On completion of the course there will be an exam to test the skills learned and a certificate will be awarded to successful candidates.

Training course information:

The Ranger Course is ideally suited for people wishing to improve their own personal knowledge of wildlife and game farming. There is no entry level required in order to enrol for the course, however, a basic knowledge of game conservation and the veld would be helpful to the student, but not essential. The course is conducted in English.

Subjects covered in the Course:

Geology and climatology
Waterberg biosphere
Ecology and astronomy
Carnivores
Mammals
Birds
Fish and amphibians
Game farm management
Reptiles and first aid

Transfers from Johannesburg International Airport to the Kololo Game Reserve will leave on the first day of the course between 10.00 – 11.00 am. We therefore recommend an overnight flight or alternately overnight in a hotel if arriving is the day before. The transfer back to the airport will be on the last day of the course after lunch.
